

THE DEPARTMENT AT HUDSON'S

Delivering the best of Detroit.

The Department at Hudson's is a collection of exceptional event spaces, designed to elevate every experience. 56,000 square feet. Three extravagant floors. A look that blends Detroit's rich history with sophistication and innovation.

Born from legacy. Designed to be legendary.

For over 80 years, the J.L. Hudson Company occupied a prime location on Woodward Avenue and an even bigger place in the hearts of Detroiters.

With treasures spread across 200 departments on 17 floors, Hudson's was the place where magic happened in the city. It's this spirit that inspired The Department as a next-generation gathering space.

ANNEX

The Hudson's building saw multiple additions over the years. The first of these “annexes” connected to Woodward Avenue and opened October 17, 1911 on J.L. Hudson's 65th birthday. The massive 1924-1925 structure was 410 feet high and made Hudson's the tallest department store in the world at the time.

BEAR

The teddy bear, often featured prominently in the store's elaborate holiday windows captured the imagination of children and adults alike and became a symbol of the festive spirit associated with Hudson's.

CONTEMPO

A trendy and upscale boutique located in the original department store, offering fashionable clothing and accessories.

DENNISON

Named in reference to the Dennison's Paper Goods department at Hudson's.

ENGLISH

The English Room was an upscale dining venue located on the thirteenth floor.

FLAG

At 3,700 square feet, the world's largest American flag was first hung on the exterior of the building on Armistice Day in 1923 and later displayed at the 1929 World's Fair in New York. The original flag, last displayed in 1949, was replaced with an even larger flag that spanned seven stories. It was hung for the final time on Flag Day in 1976 before being donated to the Smithsonian Institution.

GEORGIAN

The Georgian Room was the restaurant located on the thirteenth floor and was renowned for its sophisticated Georgian-style decor. The Georgian Room and its culinary team are credited with creating the iconic Maurice salad.

HAT

Hats were a fashion staple at Hudson's and were sold in multiple departments throughout the store. Men's hats were located on the mezzanine level and women's hats were found on the seventh floor in 'The Modern Shop' with sections including 'Trimmed & Tailored Hats,' 'Popular Priced Hats' and 'Dobbs and Sport Hats.'

J.L. OFFICE
